Psyched to share this new interview featuring Josh Cheon:

Josh Cheon grew up in northern New Jersey, just outside New York City where he spent his weekends dancing at goth clubs and digging for records. He moved to San Francisco in 2006 and joined gay DJ collective Honey Soundsystem from 2007 to 2017. His love of underground '80s music pushed him to start Dark Entries in 2009, a record label specializing in reissuing lost music from that era as well as contemporary bands referencing those analog sounds.

Josh's Faves:

Favorite book: Walking Through Clear Water in a Pool Painted Black by Cookie Mueller

Favorite restaurant in NYC: Via Carota

Favorite city to travel to: Lisbon

Favorite current film: Bang My Box: The Robin Byrd Story

Favorite dish: kibbeh nayeh

Favorite poet: Brontez Purnell
